

THROUGH THE STATE.

Items and Events of Interest Gleaned from Our Exchanges.

The Williamson Mining and Manufacturing Company, of which Major J. C. Alderson, of Wheeling, and John Q. Dickinson, of Charleston, are leading spirits, will build a town at the mouth of Pond river, Logan county, where the N. & W. will make the end of a division of the line now being constructed, by establishing manufacturing enterprises and selling town lots to persons who will reside there. The place is named Williamson. A town has already been laid off and a great many lots sold. Fifty new houses have been built and stores and other concerns are now on the ground, including a newspaper. The securing of factories has been successful in so much as contracts have been made with the owners of several wood working concerns to locate there.

The Huntington Herald says: Some time ago the United States authorities arrested a girl some distance above Hamlin, Lincoln county, named McClure, for illicit distilling, and she was taken before a commissioner at Charleston, and gave bond for her appearance in the sum of one thousand dollars. Her brother is now wanted, but defies arrest like his sister, and says he'll massacre any one that comes to take him. The lad will be pinched, however, between this and next Wednesday, and it won't take a regiment of soldiers to do it, either. Mr. McClure is wanted and must come to time. The place where McClure, who is about thirty, lives is on the edge of Boone county, and is a very rough place, situated on Slab creek.

Miss Ona Reynolds and Mr. Charles McCroskey, both young lovers of Fudge creek, near Ona, up the C. & O., wanted to marry, but the old folks objected. An elopement was agreed upon, and Tuesday evening Miss Ona disappeared suddenly from home. When her mother, who had been suspicious for a day, discovered that her daughter was gone, she started in pursuit, and the elopers were at the station at Ona when they saw the old lady coming. They started to foot it to Guyandotte, which place they reached early enough Wednesday morning to catch the early Ohio River train for Gallipolis, Ohio, where they secured a license and were married.—Huntington Times.

One day last week Joseph Crow, of Littleton, Wetzel county, who carried the mail between that place and Nettie Hill, Penn., was found dead in his cart on the road. On the day of his death Crow went from Littleton to Freeport with the mail and was very much intoxicated. Instead of going on to his destination after passing Freeport a short distance he returned to that place and reported the carrier from the other end had failed to meet him, and started on his return trip to Littleton. A short distance out he was found sitting in his cart stone dead.—Morgantown Dominion.

A man in the employ M. H. Chapman, the railroad contractor, as blacksmith, left the camp on Laurel creek last Sunday and not returning a search was instituted and on Wednesday his dead body was found in Laurel creek. Another employe of Mr. Chapman was supposed to be with the drowned man and as he has since left and has not been seen foul play is suspected. Both men are believed to have been drinking. The body was not removed and a justice was sent for to hold an inquest. The drowned man was a German.—Brazton Democrat.

A pall of gloom hovered over Morgantown the day after Christmas, caused by the sudden and terrible death of James M. Winger, only child of Daniel S. Winger, the cigarmaker of this place. Near the noon hour of the day (December 26) the (now) deceased entered the elevator of the Victor Mills Company to hunt Mr. Kaiser, the mill manager, to deliver a telegram. No one was in the elevator at the time, and in descending to an upper floor Mr. Winger was caught by the end of a shaft of the machinery and whirled around several times, breaking his leg in several places, also his neck, and crushed in his side.—Morgantown Post.

The Putnam Democrat reports that a cold blooded murder occurred at St. Albans last Tuesday. Bill Lacy met "Lish" Trim with Min Smith, a respectable woman, who, by the way, is well remembered by some of the Winfield boys, and tried to release her from the custody of said Trim. Being unable to do so Lacy drew a revolver and killed his man.

On last Wednesday morning as passenger train No. 3 was descending the grade west of Terra Alta an unknown man was struck and instantly killed. The accident occurred near Amblerburg, and the unfortunate victim was a man of medium height, fair complexion dark mustache and one of his fingers had been amputated.

We learn that no more track will be laid on the new road to Gauley river this winter. The track has been laid to within about three miles of the railroad bridge below the mouth of Holly. The force, we are informed, will go to Buckhannon river, where some track is to be laid, and will return here in the spring and resume work.—Brazton Democrat.

The body of Henry Reek, a B. & O. brakeman, was found along the railroad tracks at Weyertown the day after Christmas. It is believed by some that he was murdered, as he had been in a quarrel a short while before. He was from Martinsburg, where he leaves a wife and little child.—Shepherdstown Register.

Some unknown fiend put a lot of cotton oil in the water bucket at the Beech Grove, Cabell county, church while a big revival was in progress. A number of people drank from the bucket and the meeting ended in confusion. Some of the people nearly died from the effects of the dose.

The Norfolk & Western Railroad company has placed an order with the Roanoke machine shops for the construction of 500 coal cars, to be built at once. The cars are to be used for hauling coal from the Twelve Pole coal mines.—Wayne News.

S. S. Vinson and W. S. Napier are each timbering extensively in Kiah's creek this year. Some 15,000 logs are now hauled and ready to be splashed out of the main creek and its tributaries.—Wayne News.

Governor Fleming has employed estate senators Flournoy and Price to represent West Virginia in the suit brought by the state of Maryland concerning the boundary line between the two states.

The first sawed lumber ever shipped down Twelve Pole by train was two car loads shipped last week by J. A. Hughes from the mill of Peters & Vinson at Missouri creek.

Passenger trains are now running regularly from Ravenswood through to Spencer on the Ravenswood, Spencer & Glenville railroad. Two trains run each way daily.

The reassessment of real estate in one district of Braxton county shows an increased valuation over the former assessment of nearly $400,000.

Ed Lewis shot and fatally wounded John Walker at Hinton last Saturday night at 12 o'clock, the latter dying a few hours afterward. Lewis accused Walker of being too intimate with his wife.

The Ceredo Advance learns through reliable parties that the question of the Hocking Valley railroad building to Kenova is now under contemplation. The Hocking Valley is one of the best roads in the state of Ohio, and the building of this road to Kenova would give a complete outlet to all the northeastern part of the state. It is said the prospect for the building of the road is very favorable.

An electric railroad is to be built from Huntington, W. Va., to Ashland, Ky., a distance of sixteen miles. From a business standpoint, the electric road, running, as it would, cars every fifteen minutes, and giving what might be termed street car connection with Central City, Kellogg, Ceredo, Kenova, Catlettsburg and Ashland, would be a great thing for Huntington.

The Tygart's Valley News says: the postal clerk, Elwood Brown, on the Grafton and Greenbrier railroad, got left at Belington the other day, and he tried to catch the train. He succeeded but the train was at Grafton when he caught it. He tramped the whole distance, 47 miles, and was completely played out. Strange to say, however, he was on duty next day.

The saw mill of Mr. S. Z. Hoffacker, on Big Creek, about two miles from Don Station on the C. & O. railway, was burned Thursday night last about 1 o'clock. The saw mill, engine and all the tools and other fixtures thereto were entirely destroyed. All the lumber of any value at the mill was saved.

John Eads and Harry Bayes, fellow employes in the Gallipolis furniture factory, and rivals for the hand of Katie Little, last week engaged in a deadly conflict, precipitated by jealousy, while at work, which will probably result fatally to both. Bayes used a knife and Eads a hammer. Both are in a critical condition.

Jefferson Davis, from Folk's Mill, was hunting, and while standing with the butt of his gun on the ground and his hand over the muzzle his dog ran up and, in a playful manner, jumped on him. The dog's paw hit the trigger of the gun and discharged it, shattering his hand badly.

Major Amos Stickney has been selected as Colonel Wm. E. Merrill's successor as the United States engineer in charge of the Ohio river and its navigable tributaries.

George Amos, a deck hand on the steamer D. L. Enos, was drowned at Huntington Friday.

Mormon elders are proselyting in Wirt county, and the citizens are aroused.

A national bank is to be established at Ceredo.

STRANGE STATE OF AFFAIRS.

Not Enough Office-seekers for This Section to Supply the Places.

A strange sort of a situation is shown to exist by a note received by Postmaster Cowden from the department at Washington Saturday. It announces that the supply of applicants for positions in the railway mail service from the northern part of West Virginia is not sufficient to meet the demand. The Civil Service Commission will therefore hold a railway mail examination at Martinsburg on January 26, any persons desiring to apply for places are requested to file their applications as early as possible. Anybody over eighteen and under thirty-five years of age is eligible, if a citizen of the United States. All information as to the examination can be obtained by writing to the Civil Service Commission at Washington. Postmaster Cowden said yesterday that a dozen or more bright young men could secure positions at an early date. It is certainly strange that West Virginia is backward in asking for anything that is lying around to be had for the asking.

NO POLITICS IN IT.

A Town Election Which Democrats Tried To Make Capital Of.

To the Editor of the Intelligence.
SIR:—I see in yesterday's Register that our town elected a Democratic mayor and recorder, which is true, but as for the most of the council being Democrats it is a mistake. The majority are Republicans.

But what I want to say is that the reporter for the Register, the editor, or some one, wanted to make a little Democratic capital out of our election, when the fact is politics was not mentioned when selecting the successful ticket, and I doubt if political issues were thought of until after it was completed, and the persons elected were all on one ticket. The opposition ticket was also part Republican and part Democratic, but not one candidate on it was elected by about three to one. The idea was to get the very best men possible on the ticket, regardless of politics.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligence.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 10.—Charter issued yesterday by the secretary of state: Pickens Lumber Company, for the purpose of purchasing, dealing and operating in timber and timber land, manufacturing timber into lumber and selling the same. Principal office at Parkersburg. Capital subscribed, one thousand dollars and the amount paid in is one hundred dollars, with the privilege granted to increase to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Shares are one hundred dollars each, and are held by J. N. Camden and others of Parkersburg.

J. H. Locke Shoe Company for the purpose of buying and selling at wholesale and retail boots, shoes, slippers, rubber goods of all kinds; also of manufacturing and selling the same. Principal office at Wheeling. Capital subscribed is $1,000, $100 paid in, and privilege granted to increase to $200,000. The shares are $100 each and are held by William H. Piatt, Meigs A. Holden, William H. Wood, Thomas B. Moore and Patrick J. Greene, of Wheeling.

Mozart Park Association for the purpose of acquiring land to be used as a park or place of public resort and for amusement, &c. Principal office at Wheeling. Capital subscribed is $750; paid in on subscription $75, with the privilege granted to increase to $500,000. The shares are $20 each and are held by Samuel Welby and thirty-seven others, all of Wheeling.

A COWARDLY ASSAULT.

On a Wheeling Business Man in the Interior of Rivals.

To the Editor of the Intelligence.
SIR:—It has been published that a boycott has been placed on Monongah coal, for which I am agent in Wheeling. It was stated that the mines at Monongah were non-union; that they were underpaid; that some of them were nearly starved, and all such false and foolish things, and that Monongah coal was selling cheap here.

Now, I have just visited Monongah. I found the mines paying union wages, and I never saw a set of workmen better housed or better fed. A good four-roomed house, nicely finished, rents for $8 a month. The company sells miners coal delivered at 5 cents a bushel. As to the price of my coal here, it costs 1 cent more than home-mined coal. Below is a list of the Monongah miners and the wages they have made in a month. Mr. Ford told me that he never saw men do better or make better wages in the United States than the miners do there, and they all talked the same way. There is no dissatisfaction.

The committee of Wheeling miners who are annoying my workmen and customers are hereby notified that I will prosecute them to the full extent of the law if they do not cease same. Persons desiring this coal can have it promptly delivered by calling telephone No. 604.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. DROOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

N. B. If you desire to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Insist upon having

TAKE HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA CURES ALL DISEASES

Hon. John C. Townes, Judge 21st Judicial District of Texas and to his finding of fact in the trial of an indictment suit "I find that plaintiff, Wm. Radam, manufactures and sells a medicine of good curative properties which gave it large commercial value, and that this medicine rapidly made a reputation which gave it large commercial value."

No other medicine has ever received such a verdict from any court that "rapidly made its reputation" on account of its "curative properties."

Mr. Radam has just issued a forty-eight page circular and pamphlet about "Miraculous War," which explains all about the causes and cure of diseases. These circulars contain more common sense and natural facts than all medical books put together.

VALUABLE INFORMATION FREE.
Mr. Radam's publication that appeared last spring in many New York City papers denouncing Dr. Koch's Lymph as a fiction are reprinted in his pamphlet "Miraculous War." Also a general diagnosis of medical humbug. When you read these circulars you will open your eyes to the fact that Mr. Radam discovered the cause and cure of all diseases. Send a 2 cent stamp for both circulars to Radam's Microbe Killer, Nashville, Tenn. or to our agents.
